

Peer Reviews (Final)

Team Hacktrack : George Ezenna, Kairat Ashim, Eric Manzi, Favyen Bastani

Eric

Similar to the MVP Review Eric stayed on top of many of the requirements and deadlines of the project. Eric was also very quick to respond to questions I had. The only difficult I had was sometimes Eric would suggest improvements that were vague. I think Eric should work on being more specific in his suggestions and ideas to be more effective.

Kairat

I think the main area to improve on would be communication. Kairat and I primarily communicated over messenger because our schedules didn't align. This led to many misunderstandings. Ideally Kairat should try and carve out more time for in person meetings because although they are difficult they are usually more productive than our "remote" meetings.

Favyen

This time around Favyen did a much better job on delivering on time and sometimes even early. However a lot of times Favyen had good ideas and suggestions but he was usually pretty passive and wouldn't push them strongly even if they were better than the ideas from the rest of the team. I think to be more effective Favyen should be more aggressive in pushing forth his ideas and vocalizing what he is thinking.
